"Sometimes a Woman Needs a Horse"

(a personal story of discovery of a spiritual message in the horse and rider experience)

By Betsy Talcott Kelleher

While training her first horse, a headstrong Appaloosa mare, the author struggles to find effective partnership. Share the excitement of competitive trail riding, of meeting Sally Swift and learning the amazing influence of her Centered Riding basic principles. See how horse training principles parallels Christian discipleship! You might find a life changing message in this book.
